

If the FCC is concerned about protecting America from media conglomerate attempts to influence something as important as the upcoming presidential election, the FCC should take action now to prevent such a disaster. Dan Rather paid a very dear price for his poor journalism; if Sinclair wishes to stoop to that level, they do not deserve to operate as a conglomerate. The FCC needs to take pre-emptive action today!

Regards,
Christian Hassold